From The East

Greeting from the East

As my term as Worshipful Master comes to a close, I want to take a moment to reflect on the journey we've shared. It has been an honor to serve alongside such dedicated and talented individuals. Together, we have accomplished much, and I am proud of what we have built. Growth has been our mission, and I believe we have succeeded in that.

I am excited to welcome our expected new Worshipful Master, Mike Kosatka, and the incoming officers, who bring fresh vision and enthusiasm. I am confident that under his leadership, our lodge will continue to thrive and inspire. Thank you all for your support and friendship throughout my tenure. I look forward to seeing the great things that lie ahead for our craft.

Fraternally,

Jovan Boskovski, Worshipful Master

November is a month of reflection and gratitude, a time to honor the legacies of those who have come before us and to reaffirm our commitment to the path they laid. As the days grow shorter and the air becomes crisp, we are reminded of the enduring warmth of our brotherhood—a light that persists through any season. Just as nature enters a period of rest and renewal, so too can we pause to gather wisdom and strength for the journey ahead. Let us use this time to deepen our bonds, to serve our communities, and to embody the principles that unite us as Masons: charity, truth, and fidelity.

Brethren and family, as Valentine's Day approaches, we are honored to announce a special Widows Dinner to be held at our Lodge in February 2025. This evening will be dedicated to honoring the widows of our dearly departed brothers, celebrating their strength and continued connection to our Masonic family. Please pencil it into your calendars, and watch for further details on the date and time, along with an RSVP request. We look forward to sharing this heartfelt evening together.

From the West

As most of my fellow brethren know, this has been a very trying month for me. But with help from my brothers, I was still able to maintain a degree of focus because, deep in my soul, I know my wife would want me to be that way. I didn't really know how to express what I have been going through—and still am—but I know I have to continue to move forward for myself and for others, like my brothers, to keep moving forward on this journey of life. I hope this quote somewhat sums it up:

“Focus is the art of directing our energy towards what truly matters while learning to filter out the noise that distracts us. In today's world, it's easy to feel pulled in countless directions, but true focus means aligning ourselves with purpose, staying present, and committing to the path we've set. When we focus, we empower ourselves to make steady progress, even if it's one small step at a time. Let us be reminded that clarity and concentration are the keys to unlocking our fullest potential, and that what we focus on ultimately shapes who we become.”

My brothers, despite my misfortune, I will continue my journey to improve myself as well as our lodge.

Yours fraternally,

Michael Kosatka, Senior Warden

From the South

Greetings Brethren,

Our season is at an end. The wineskins and stores are empty. The signs in the sky point to a change to winter and the end of all things. This year has witnessed the making of new brothers, the return of old brothers, and the establishment of new administration to better manage this well-endowed lodge. We have also lost brothers from the lodge, including one of our officers, Brother Ivan Ananyev, as well as beloved wives of our brothers, including our Senior Warden, who lost his dearly beloved wife, Sherri Kosatka. We will miss them all and remember them always.

In turn, lodges, like the terms of their officers, have lives of their own. This year's officers' terms are now coming to a close. We've had many dinners and social gatherings for the brothers and continued our charitable work for the community. But for us, as your officers, the sun is deep in the West. The Senior Warden is busy helping the Worshipful Master close his term and paying the Craft their dues so that none may go away dissatisfied.

This season also represents a time of change for earthly governments, as our elections approach alongside our lodge elections. The creators of the Landmarks of our Fraternity established this timing not by coincidence. They recognized that the Holy Bible and the ancient lore of our people advised us to look to the stars for seasons, times, and changes in the rulers of the world.

November 5th in the civil calendar was chosen to ever remember the time when popish ignorance, plots, and treason sought to overthrow the civil government in England during the Gunpowder Plot. Thanks to Divine Providence, that evil was averted, and a new birth of civil government occurred.

Likewise, our elections in the lodge are coming up next week. It offers a chance for a rebirth in the governance of our lodge. In the meantime, our term in office is done. Although we say goodbye to you as your officers in our current positions, we look forward to a new chapter for our lodge. Great things are planned for next year, as we build upon the work of those who came before us. So, please come and enjoy this last time with us on Nov 6th with our usual dinner, camaraderie, fine fellowship, and cherished memories.

Yours fraternally,

Reynold Ramsey, Junior Warden

“For the average man, going from what he is to what he wants to be takes a giant leap of faith...

For a Freemason however, it's just one more upright regular step.”

Around the Lodge

Our Brothers did an outstanding job manning the grills, bringing smiles and delicious aromas to Cactus View and Greenway Middle Schools, where their efforts were truly appreciated!

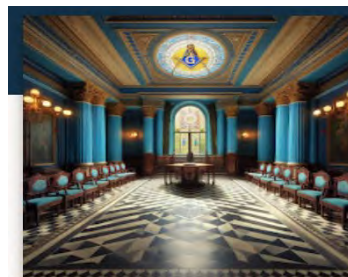

Cheers Brothers!
